

NON-PARTISAN CANDIDATE FOR MAYOR-STATE COMMISSIONER

MAYOR A. G. FELL.

Mayor A. G. Fell is a non-partisan candidate for re-election. He has been a resident of Ogden for 40 years and practically all of his interests are here. His life has been an open book and his fellow citizens have had ample opportunity to judge his general character. In his announcement as a candidate he declares that the matter of an ample water supply for Ogden City is paramount. He says the element of safety must not be overlooked in building the South Fork dam and that every detail must be approved by engineers of recognized ability before the structure is commenced. In his platform he declares:

"I am for a good clean, progressive, conservative, non-partisan administration and strict regulation—not for a wide-open town."

"I have made no promise, directly or indirectly, to anyone, and will make none."

"I stand for equal rights to all, special privileges to none."

"If elected to the honorable and responsible office of mayor, my entire time will be devoted to the duties of such office, and my sole aim will be to promote the welfare of Ogden City in a broad sense."

STATE FEDERATION'S CLOSING SESSION IS MOST IMPORTANT

Brigham City, Oct. 16.—The most important meeting of the State Federation of Women's Clubs was the last session today. It consisted of an open parliament, led by Miss Gertrude McChesney, the election of delegates to the biennial meeting at Chicago, the reading of two fine papers and the reports of clubs.

At 9:30 a. m. the meeting opened, with Mrs. Gorham presiding. Miss McChesney introduced her subjects with a general preface. She said that dress shows the individual characteristics of the house surrounding, and that the discussion would deal with this topic first. Mrs. A. F. Palm of Provo spoke first, bringing out these points:

"The altruist in dress would have us discuss first what dress suitable to young women is most conducive to the widest application of altruism. Then, can we, as club women, prevail upon the young woman to dress, not only for her own physical, mental and moral good, but also for the mental and moral good of her classmates, the youths of high school and the young men of college?"

"The uniform dress for girls was introduced by the superintendent of Provo schools, through the cooperation of women's clubs, parents' societies and altruistic citizens, and was a success."

Mrs. S. R. Callaway of Provo brought out the point that in most high schools the girls dress as if for a party, and Mrs. A. V. Taylor of Salt Lake backed up the statement, adding that the love for rich and bold in the young is a barbaric tendency coming to light, and that it is better to humor tactfully that fault early, rather than have it crop out later.

Mrs. Whitehead spoke, and Mrs. Byron Cummings, also of Salt Lake, discussed the danger of long hair. Mrs. J. H. Hayward, D. D. Hertz, Mrs. H. M. Goot brought out various points—that children love the beautiful, that parents are principally responsible for the high toned ideas of girls with regard to dress and that it is useless to begin reforms with children until mothers first set the example by more sane and simple dressing.

Popular Music Harmful.

The subject of music was then introduced. It was the consensus of opinion that the salacious suggestions in the modern popular music are harmful to children. The music in schools is regulated, but the prime trouble seems to be in the home and public amusements. The point was made that at no other period of time have more efforts been made than at present for general uplift in all phases of life, yet at no time could more crime have been known. Apropos of this it was suggested that there be less catering to the physical, and that the craving for noise be modified by educating children and grownups to the best in music, one way being the employment of phonographs in the home. The speakers were Mrs. Masters of Provo (Corinne Hammer), Mrs. F. A. Palm, Provo; Mrs. R. B. Porter, Ogden; Mrs. Elizabeth M. Cohen and Mrs. A. J. Gorham.

Mrs. F. W. Adams, Salt Lake, and Mrs. Ira F. Goss of Eureka gave examples of the fine influence of victories in the home.

Playgrounds.

"Supervised Playgrounds" was near to the hearts of the women, and the advantages were well set forth. Selfishness, it was said, could be overcome to a great extent by teaching children in their play to respect the rights of others. Amusement of high school children were also discussed, and it was decided that an endeavor would be made to have more entertainments in the homes and to eliminate as far as possible parties on school nights.

Reasons why it would be advisable to have supervised play in the public schools were given by Mrs. H. M. Barrows of Ogden opened the discussion, and was followed by Mrs. A. F. Palm of Provo, Mrs. Wynn L. Eddy of Brigham City, Mrs. L. M. Bailey of Salt Lake, Mrs. H. J. Hayward of Salt Lake, Mrs. E. E. Corfman of Provo, Mrs. Stephen Longstroth of Garland, Mrs. C. E. Richards of Salt Lake and Mrs. Elizabeth Cohen.

Chance for the Men.

The discussion of the scientific housekeeper, "Of What Does She Consist?" was opened by Mrs. E. D. Ball of Logan.

"Why and Where Clubwomen Fall" was opened by Mrs. W. H. Hilliard of Salt Lake. The time was short because of lack of information on club proceedings and no point was made.

Make War on Weeds.

Mrs. J. W. Ald of Provo, second vice president of the federation, read a paper on "Our Aims for the Coming Year," in which she set forth a broad and inspiring policy. She elaborated upon the importance of work in the individual clubs, room for keener patriotism and lack of unity. She mentioned the hope for a girls' dormitory at the university. Civil service reform and more activities in enforcing laws, Mrs. Ald said, would accomplish wonders. Increased information of club women on economic conditions and industrial problems are to be featured. Endeavors to exterminate the weed will be made statewide.

An effort will be made to set before the young people refined and wholesome pleasures to take the place of the common public dances. The work will extend to moral, sanitary and economic reforms, to make one's home town a place to be proud of by removing all that is unsightly and unbecoming so that the enterprising young people will care to remain at home instead of going away. In conclusion Mrs. Ald said:

"Let us pledge ourselves anew to the interests of our state institutions to the problems of life around us and to the great tasks of helping human spirits and be glad that the opportunity is ours."

Nominations were made for the election of delegates to the Chicago biennial in 1914, and the morning session adjourned for luncheon, which was served at the high school.

For Outside Clubs.

It was moved and seconded that the Utah Federation have an endorsement fund for the purpose of paying expenses of federation officers to visit clubs outside of Salt Lake, so that the smaller towns will reap a greater benefit of federation work. It was decided to raise $1000 within the next two years, the interest only to be used for these purposes Mrs. R. B. Porter of Ogden was made chairman.

Mrs. J. M. Bishop of Ogden concluded the program with a paper on "Poetry of Today." She covered the ground showing the functions of poetry, the poetic awakening in America, and the influence of foreign books.

She said that poetry deals with the noblest things of life, a glimpse of the beyond, the unfolding of beauty, and the expression of the soul. It was the poetry of war songs that inspired warriors and the national song itself is a poem, an inspiration. Mrs. Bishop pointed out the reasons why poetry cultivates, and that persons who are touched by its beauties are necessarily more sensitive than those whose soul knows no rhythm, no duty emotions. The talk was illustrated by poems of the best known modern poets such as Josephine Preston Peabody, Edith Thomas, Sarah Teasdale, Van Dyke, Ella Wheeler Wilcox, Galsworthy, Woodbury and others.

These Are Delegates.

The returns of the election were read, showing that the four delegates to the Chicago biennial in 1914 were: Mrs. J. W. Ald, Provo; Mrs. Elizabeth M. Cohen, Salt Lake; Mrs. R. B. Porter, Ogden; and Mrs. Ira D. Travis. The alternates will be Mrs. E. W. Dunn, Brigham City; Mrs. Gould B. Blakely, Salt Lake; Mrs. J. T. Bess, Salt Lake, and Miss Mary Shields of Park City.

WATCHING FOR BLACKMAILERS

Postoffice authorities fear that there may now be a list of juvenile blackmailers, gaining their inspiration from the operations attributed to Belle Himmelfeld of Corinne.

After the famous Molyneux candy poison case in New York, cases of this sort began to be found all over the country, and hundreds of persons sent their enemies blackmailers. Other crime epidemics have started similarly. There have been several Ogden blackmailing cases, but none before, it is believed, by a young girl, and it is thought this deed may cause others to emulate it.

If it does," says L. A. McGee, postoffice inspector, "there will be some young persons in trouble for fooling with Uncle Sam's mails is not a light offense. It might be said right now that such youngsters as try this form of pastime will be prosecuted to the full extent of the federal law."

BOSTON BANKERS GO OVER MOFFATT ROAD

Denver, Colo., Oct. 16.—F. H. Prince, of F. H. Prince & Co., Boston bankers, interested with Newman Ebb in the reorganization and refinancing of the Moffatt road and the United States representatives of the Dr. F. S. Pearson interests; Bradley Palmer of the law firm of Storrey, Thorndyke & Palmer of Boston, legal advisers of Erb, and Rudolph Agassiz of the Agassiz family of Boston, are inspecting the Denver & Salt Lake railroad today.

The trip is to be preliminary to financial arrangements which, in accordance with the agreement by Erb and his associates that the construction of the extension of the Denver & Salt Lake to Salt Lake City shall start at the time work on the tunnel starts will provide the ultimate building of the line to Salt Lake City. Surveys have been completed within 150 miles of Salt Lake City. The estimated cost of the extension is $4,000,000 to $5,000,000.

PARTISAN FIGHT

Brigham City, Oct. 16.—The attempt of the leaders of the Progressive party in this city to combine the forces of the three parties for a non-partisan ticket in the coming municipal election failed this morning. The Republicans refused to fuse with the other two parties. The Progressives and Democrats, however, will stick it out and select a non-partisan ticket. The make convention of the Republicans will be held tomorrow night, at which time a full city ticket will be selected. The Progressive-Democratic convention will also be held tomorrow night, when a strictly non-partisan ticket will be selected. To whom the nominations for mayor will be given remains a mystery as up to the present time there hasn't been a single name suggested to head either ticket.

PLANT EXPERT FROM GERMANY STOPS OFF IN SALT LAKE

Salt Lake, Oct. 17.—Dr. H. W. Woolenweber, professor of plant pathology in the University of Berlin, Germany, who has been specially engaged by the United States department of agriculture to investigate the new potato disease which has made its appearance in this country, is at the Hotel Utah on the return trip from his investigations in the west. He says he has discovered that "leaf roll," the new disease, is prevalent to some extent in Utah and that it was responsible for the partial failure of the potato crop of Greeley, Colo.

Dr. Woolenweber says he found that the disease is similar to that which has blighted the potato crops of Germany and France. The symptoms of the disease first show upon the leaves of the plant. The leaves begin to roll into a ball and when the crop is harvested it is found that the size and number of potatoes on the stalk are below the standard. Many varieties of potatoes have been investigated and it seems that "leaf roll" is prevalent in the west. In California, where he has made extensive investigations, he says he found that the disease has not only attacked potatoes, but watermelons, egg plant and tomatoes as well. As the fungi die quickly, he has had to make most of his experiments in hastily constructed laboratories. He has recommended to the department of agriculture that a special experiment be built at Greeley, Colo., where the progress of the disease can be watched. For some time attention has been given to the disease at the experiment station at Jerome, Ida., but nothing really new has been discovered at that point, he says. Dr. Woolenweber hopes to be able to find a cure for the disease during the winter.

FOR COMMISSIONER

EDMUND T. HULANISKI.

I favor pursuing the same policy in the city's business as corporations and firms follow—honesty, economy and public policy, carefulness in making contracts, living up to them when made and seeing that the city gets what it bargains for.

While I doubt the wisdom of a city going into partnership with a corporation to build a public work, having done so all that remains is to carry out the building of the dam and safeguarding the interests of the city. I am opposed to the gratuitous granting of franchises by the city. The best possible terms should be obtained for the city on every franchise, and I favor submitting the granting of a franchise of any importance to vote of the people.

I do not favor the imposition of blue law restrictions on tourists. Unless tourists are permitted to live as they are accustomed to live they will not visit with us; and we want them to do so and to spend their money with us.

I would put the road between the bridge and Five Points in proper condition. There are probably other places that need like attention, but that road is notably in need of repairs.

I have no personal interest in the liquor question. My views, based upon long observation, favor high license, regulation and limiting the number of saloons. There is no excuse for the existence of a dive. If such comes into existence, suppress it.

As to closing hour at night, the state law says 12 o'clock. Beyond that the commission cannot lawfully go. Nine o'clock appears early to some, especially in summer. There is always a happy medium. Perhaps 10 o'clock might be a good compromise. I am not radical on the point and personally do not care except as it affects prosperity, and I favor a policy that will not only bring people here, but will induce them to stay when they come, and further to bring about a state of affairs that will permit all classes to have a fair chance to forge ahead in business and labor.

Vice should be controlled in such a manner as to reduce it to a minimum.

the "leaf roll" in Europe for six years and thinks that it was transported to this country through seed potatoes purchased abroad.

BUILDING TEST ROAD

Pocatello, Ida., Oct. 16.—The first mile of the state highway to be constructed in Idaho will be made between Pocatello and Portneuf and an experiment will be built of sand and clay. The state highway commission, which met here recently, has ordered this construction. State Engineer Smith, in company with Chairman Theodore Turner has examined the roadbed and pronounces it first-class for the materials to be used. It is the purpose of this commission to construct roads of material in the locality to reduce the cost. The county's share of the expense will be about $800. Upon this test mile of road will depend somewhat the material and manner of construction of many miles of the state highway.

ELECTION JUDGES CHOSEN

Provo, Oct. 16.—The following judges of election for the city election to fill vacancies, have been appointed by the city commission: District No. 1, W. P. Whitehead; district No. 2, Albert Jones; district No. 5, Mrs. Freda B. Cluff and J. H. Beck; district No. 7, Henry Cluff.

POPCORN WAGON IS DESTROYED

The peanut and popcorn wagon of T. P. Gilchrist, at Twenty-fifth street and Washington avenue, was wrecked early this morning when one of the huge cable spools of the Mountain States Telephone company rolled down the hill and crashed into the wagon. The loss is placed at several hundred dollars as all sorts of stock was scattered in addition to the smashing of the wagon.

Who released the roll of cable is a question that the police are working upon. Since the spool weighed several hundred pounds, it had momentum enough to plough through one of the corner stores had it been on the right track.

WIFE GETS DIVORCE BEFORE THE TRIAL

Los Angeles, Oct. 16.—Before being placed on trial today before Federal Judge Welborn on the charge of using the mails to defraud in connection with the Panama Development company, Dr. John Grant Lyman received word that his wife had won a decree of divorce from him in New York last Tuesday on statutory grounds. Lyman did not contest the suit, the material for which was provided in Whitefield, N. Y., over two years ago.

This was shortly before Lyman came to Los Angeles and astonished the natives here, as he had Wall Street, with the spaciousness of his personality and the dimensions of his schemes. Two years ago he was seen much in the company of Miss Maud Lehman, a beautiful New York girl, and to many she was known as "Mrs. Lyman." When Lyman was fleeing toward the Canadian border, after escaping from an Oakland hospital where he was a prisoner, two checks for $500 each came from Miss Maud Lehman to his aunt, Mrs. F. B. Van of San Francisco. Also a telegram signed "Proc," saying, in part: "Your silence hurts. Most anxiously awaiting letter that will explain all."

Miss Lehman, it is understood, is wanted by the government as a witness. Search has been made for her both in the east and California, but no trace of the dashing young woman has been discovered.

In his opening address to the jury this afternoon Special Prosecutor Edward F. Regan declared that Lyman, as promoter of the Panama Development company, was the cleverest get-rich-quick man outside of sensational magazine stories, and, in fact, was the original J. Rufus Wallingford.

C. Martin Stoddard, secretary-treasurer of the Stoddard incorporating company at Phoenix, Ariz., was the first witness heard. An adjournment of court was then taken until tomorrow. Almost 200 witnesses are on hand ready to testify against Lyman.

TO CREATE INTEREST IN FOOTBALL GAME

Salt Lake, Oct. 17.—For the purpose of creating interest in the Saturday Ogden-Salt Lake high school football game, the boys of the school have planned a big snake dance. Under the leadership of Peter Mathews, yellmaster, the snake dancers will tonight wind their way through the downtown streets and give special concerts at the various theaters.

The new school orchestra, consisting of forty-five pieces, will make its initial appearance at a matinee dance to be held in the Eaton gymnasium this afternoon. Professor L. P. Christensen, leader of the orchestra, plans to use the organization at all school social functions this year.

CLARK'S

AUTO RUNS DOWN

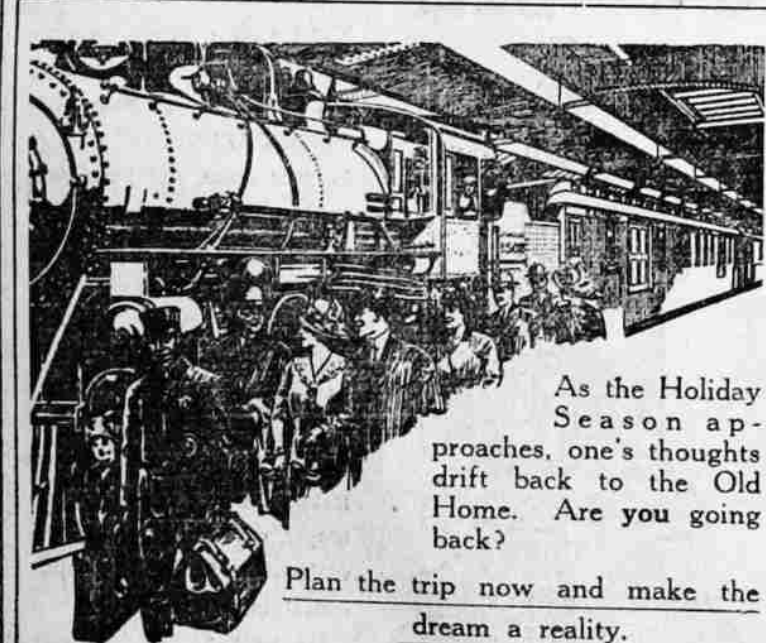

CARRIER ON WHEEL. Salt Lake, Oct. 17.—A. D. Nadel, a city mail carrier, was knocked down and painfully bruised early yesterday afternoon, when the rear wheel of the bicycle on which he was riding was struck by an automobile. Nadel was just emerging from Postoffice place with a sack full of mail when the machine, evidently in the hands of a novice, veered suddenly and struck the wheel. The chauffeur seemed frightened for as he struck the bicycle he turned suddenly to the opposite side of the street and did not stop until he bumped into an automobile.

Patrolman H. A. Olsen saw the accident and held the chauffeur until it was made clear that Nadel was not seriously injured and that the automobile was not damaged. He then admonished him to learn how to maneuver the machine before getting onto main street again, and allowed him to depart.

CROWN POINT CLOSING

Eureka, Utah, Oct. 16.—The Crown Point company has closed down all mine work until the coming spring months. This decision was reached today by Manager John Roudy, to recent meeting of the directors. One reason given is that it is a difficult matter to get supplies to the property in winter, and another is that the shareholders will welcome a respite from assessments which are necessary to keep work going.

The property has been operated by drifting from the 550' station, and while conditions appear favorable, no one has as yet been found.

As the Holiday Season approaches, one's thoughts drift back to the Old Home. Are you going back?

Plan the trip now and make the dream a reality.
